Readings

Isaiah 6.1-8, Psalm 29, Romans 8.12-17, & John 3.1-17

Collect Almighty and everlasting God, you have given us your servants grace, by the confession of a true faith, to acknowledge the glory of the eternal Trinity and in the power of the divine majesty to worship the Unity: keep us steadfast in this faith, that we may evermore be defended from all adversities; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Post Communion Almighty and eternal God, you have revealed yourself as Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and live and reign in the perfect unity of love: hold us firm in this faith, that we may know you in all your ways and evermore rejoice in your eternal glory, who are three Persons yet one God, now and for ever.

2 Corinthians 4.5-12, & Mark 2.23 - 3.6

Collect O God, the strength of all those who put their trust in you, mercifully accept our prayers and, because through the weakness of our mortal nature we can do no good thing without you, grant us the help of your grace, that in the keeping of your commandments we may please you both in will and deed; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Post Communion Eternal Father, we thank you for nourishing us with these heavenly gifts: may our communion strengthen us in faith, build us up in hope, and make us grow in love; for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Church Commissioners' work to address links with enslavement

Myth 1: The Church of England is going to pay £1 billion in reparations

The truth: In 2023, the Church Commissioners announced a commitment of £100 million over three triennia – this commitment is not changing.

Our response is not about paying compensation to individuals, nor is it purely about the money. The fund being established has the primary aim to achieve impact through investments, and it is hoped that these investments will enable the fund to grow over time, leaving a lasting positive legacy, as well as enabling a programme of grant-making.

The £1 billion figure is an aspiration. The Church Commissioners recognises that no amount of money will ever be enough to address the horror of African chattel enslavement. The scale of ambition for the initiative to grow to £1 billion was discussed at an early stage by the Church Commissioners themselves, the hope always being to act in a catalytic way by seeding the fund with our £100 million commitment. We hope that others may invest alongside us in support of this ambition, for example, institutions with similar histories seeking to address these legacies.

The aspiration is an exciting one and we are grateful to the Oversight Group for encouraging us to be bold in our ambitions. The Church Commissioners hopes this initial commitment of £100 million will form the nucleus of a larger initiative, that this fund will grow over time, and that we will inspire others to act to reach the goal of £1 billion.

Myth 2: Money that parishioners donate is going towards this response

The truth: None of the money given to a parish church will be used for this fund. None of the money for the new fund will come from parish income. And of course, every gift made through the Parish Giving Scheme will go to the intended beneficiary, now and always. The majority of a church's ministry is paid for by the generous giving of its local community.

Myth 3: Enslavement has nothing to do with the Church

The truth: The Church Commissioners' research has revealed that one predecessor fund of the Church Commissioners' fund, Queen Anne's Bounty, invested in and received income from South Sea Company securities. The South Sea Company transported and traded enslaved people. "Over its trading lifetime, the South Sea Company forced nearly 42,000 people to leave the African coast. It disembarked almost 35,000 people, meaning that just over 7,000 people died on the crossing," economic historian Dr Helen Paul writes. Queen Anne's Bounty also received numerous benefactions, some of which may have come from individuals linked to, or who profited from, enslavement.
